In Between appears as an exhibition in the form of a collective, however accommodating some additionality to the usual normality of the "end of season" concept; one of the peculiarities is related to the question of whether or not we should present names that filled the space of the gallery during the season that is now ending. I don't think I feel obligated to do that. Therefore, it is undoubtedly a matter of revealing simply in temporal terms the concept of "end of season", while creating new exhibition situations. It is a temporal end and a formal follow-up, to which is added the idea of passage or crossing into the afterlife; the beginning of September. Another peculiarity is that for this purpose I choose portuguese artists to which I gather some foreign.

This format will be maintained every year, as long as there is no unavoidable agenda constraint, therefore this the In-Between I project.
